MUSIC FOR LIFE

The beginning of the creative life of Marshal was laid back in 1985. Playing percussion in a school ensemble, he even then began to compose songs. His songs were imbued with love and friendship.

Having reached the age of majority, Marshal went to serve in the border troops of the former USSR. There he entered a military music orchestra and played drums. After serving in the army, he became actively involved in computer technology and self-realization.

INTEGRATION ABILITY

Today, with knowledge and experience in various fields of science: electronics, mechanical engineering, construction, finance, programming, etc., Marshal is actively involved in the integration of related industries into music.

He is looking for new solutions and actively develops innovative concepts. He composes and records instrumental music, shoots video clips, writes books and promotes his work to the masses.

Marshal is not an ordinary musician, he is a composer, songwriter and a great showman. As a showman, he presents himself as a virtuoso drummer, performing amazingly complex drum etudes. His drum solos are based on the use of paradiddles, filled with a sense of freedom and melodies from Central Asia and the East.

Marshal promoter of the Indian school of vocal percussion - Konnakol. In his drum shows, he actively uses this technique, demonstrating amazing capabilities and talent.

One of his KNOW-HOW is an electronic konnakol built on electronic voice synthesis. Also, he uses electronic transformations of the drum sound, which gives his performances a truly inimitable character.
